V2005/1

ISO9001:2000 Quality management system

- Polybags achieved certification to the ISO9001:2008 standard in 2013 after previously being certified to the old ISO9001:2000 standard since 2004 and the ISO9002:1994 standard (formerly BS5750) since 1995.
- Using this standard we operate under a quality system where we look for continuous improvement, track Key Performance Indicators and keep all activities Customer focused.
- We are audited on a regular basis by the British Standards Institute
- Our certification reference is FM31516

MOD 93-116

- Prior to formal British standards such as BS5750 above, the Ministry of Defence was the instigator of quality standards in a number of industries
- For polythene, the relevant MOD standard was 93-13 and Polybags was approved by the MOD under its contractor list number 19SP02
- Polybags still conforms to the standards required under the latest MOD revision of this standard 93-116 issued in March 2000

Royal warrant

- Polybags was awarded the Royal Warrant in 1989 and has maintained the status ever since
- Whilst not a formal quality standard, we are proud of the award which is symptomatic of our desire to be the best supplier throughout the UK
